CITY GUIDE,

Commercial Directory, for the Dear 1797.

IN TWO PARTS:

THE FIRST CONTAINING

Accurate Lifts of the Streets, Squares, Jans of Courts &c. in London, Southwark, and their Environs, with the Number of the particular House where any Banker. Merchant, Wholefale Trader, or private Family refides: THE SECOND BART GIVING.

In an Alphabetical Arrangement, the Names and Places of Abode of all the principal Inhabitants of each Street. accurately arranged.

THE PLAN IS CONSORMABLE TO SHAT OF THE COURT GUIDE,

The Novelty of which could only be furpafied by its Utility and Convenience.

TO WHICH ARE PREFIXED,

The Names and Places of Abode of the Directors of the Bank, India House, Courts of Aldermen, and the different other Offices, &c. &c.

LONDON:

PRINTED AND SOLD BY P. BOYLE.

At his Court Guide Office, No, 107, Wardour Street;

Meffrs. HOOKHAM and CARRENTER, Bond Street; Mr. VALLANCE No. 110, Cheapfide; Mr. RICHARDSON, under the Royal Exchange; Messes, WILMOT, 69, Borough, High Street; and may be had of all the Bookfellers in England.

> [Price Three Shillings Bound in Red.] (To be published Annually.)

To Mothers, Nurses, &c.

Dedicated, by Permission, to her Royal Highness the PRINCESS OF WALES.

Price Two Shillings and Six-pence.

JUST published by Mr. Boyle, from the Papers of the late highly celebrated Physicians, Sir J. Pringle, Sir Richard Jebb, Sir William Fordyce, M. St. George, and H. L. Banau,

A TREATISE UPON ALL THE DISORDERS INCIDENT TG CHILDREN.

From the Birth to the Age of Eighteen.—The directions are laid down in such plain and easy terms, as to enable every person to prescribe with safety and efficacy. There are moreover added, above one hundred of those recipes, which have been found most successful in all cases, by Medical practitioners.

Revised and Carefully Corrected, By J. DENISON, M. D.

The above may be had of all the Bookfellers in London.

Entered at Stationers Hall.

THE increasing marks of favor, with which the COURT GUIDE has been received in the circles of Fashion, first excited the idea, that a CITY GUIDE, on the same plan, would meet with no less encouragement in the commercial world. While its novelty attracts notice, its singular convenience and utility must ensure approbation. Other Directories are unewieldy in their form, injudicious or perplexing in their arrangement, and often servile copies of each other errors. This is peculiarly adapted to the pocket:—the references are distinct, clear, comprehensive: and its accuracy may be relied upon, as the names and places of residence have been ascertained upon the spot.

In the first part of the work, the Streets, Squares, Inns of Court, &c. in the City of London, the Borough of Southwark, and their environs, are given in alphabetical order, with the number of the particular house where any merchant, banker, wholesale trader, or private family of Distinction dwells: so that you see at one view the extent of the neighbourhood where, perhaps, you are going to reside; or, if only for the purpose of occasional inquiry, the street alone will remind you of the name of an inhabitant which you might otherwise forget.

The second part contains an alphabetical lift of the Wholesale Traders, Merchants, Bankers, Directors of public companies, and all other mercantile characters not engaged in retail trade, with their respective places of abode. This arrangement is at once so copious and exact, as to leave no desire of reasonable information on the subject unsatisfied.

It is probable that some persons of great respectability, who seil by retail, may be offended at the omission of their names; but this has not arisen from personal disregard, but from a strict adherence to the precise outline of the plan, which procludes the insertion of such names.

The publisher will be happy to avail himself of any hints of farther improvement, and will readily attend to communications of removals, &c. Public favor has not relaxed, but has invigorated his efforts; and it will be the fondest object of his wishes to make assiduity and gratitude keep pace with the liberality of his numerous subscribers.
